PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The good news for the '96/'97 ski season is that everything is pointing towards a great winter for skiing, as all projections across the country are for a cold and heavy snow season. The Steamboat area has opened a week earlier than planned, and reports it is the best early season in the history of the mountain. Thinking about the upcoming season, I want to continue promoting the PVS sponsored ski trips by expounding on the Lake Tahoe Trip run by Shirley Rettig, and scheduled for February 22 through March 1, 1997. I am quite surprised that more PVS'ers have not signed up for this trip as I believe it is the best deal of the year. It is part of the BRSC Western Winter Carnival, and is loaded with all kinds of fun events for an extremely low price tag. Besides the low cost, you stay at the plush Horizon Casino Hotel and get to ski (with same lift ticket) at several great ski mountains, including Heavenly, Squaw Valley, and Alpine Meadows. There is still time and openings for PVS'ers to sign up for this fantastic deal, and I strongly recommend you consider including this trip on your schedule.

It is hard to believe that we are already near the end of this calendar year, so I want to wish all PVS members a very Merry and Joyous Holiday Season, and may you all have great skiing and fun during this winter. See you on the slopes.

Serge Triau, President

AUGUST 14-25, 1997 JOIN NANCY AND RAY MCKINLEY IN VALLE NEVADO WHEN WE

SKI IN CHILE

IN MID-SEPTEMBER WE WERE SKIING IN VALLE NEVADO AND TOURING IN SANTIAGO, THE VERY EUROPEAN CAPITAL OF CHILE. IT WAS OUR BEST SKI VACATION EVER. THE HUGE RESORT, BUILT SOLELY FOR SKIING BY THE FRENCH IN 1991, IS GORGEOUS. DARK WOOD STRUCTURES TOPPED WITH STARKLY POINTED ROOFS, CONTRAST WITH THE VAST SNOWFIELDS AND THE TOWERING ANDES. AND SKIING IS GREAT. VALLE NEVADO OFFERS SOME 26,000 ACRES (40 SQUARE MILES!) OF SKIING AT ALL LEVELS AMONGST THE MAJESTIC ANDES MOUNTAINS. FURTHER, VALLE NEVADO IS NOW LIFT LINKED TO TWO OTHER VALLEYS, RESULTING IN AN OVER 40,000 ACRE SKIERS PLAYGROUND WITH A 4,000 FOOT VERTICAL. THERE IS ALSO MUCH ELSE TO SEE. THUS, WE ARE PLANNING AN 11 DAY TRIP (SHORTER AND LONGER STAYS ARE POSSIBLE), WITH THREE OR FOUR ADDITIONAL DAYS IN BEAUTIFUL SANTIAGO. WE'LL DO A CITY TOUR, VISIT VALPARAISO, AND LUNCH AND TOUR AT VINA DEL MAR, THE PLAYGROUND OF SOUTH AMERICA'S RICH AND FAMOUS. AND WE'RE PLANNING A HALF DAY VISIT TO WINE COUNTRY. ALL TOLD, OUR TRIP SHOULD PROVIDE A SPECTACULAR INTRODUCTION TO A DRAMATIC NEW HEMISPHERE.

DESPITE THIS BEING A 1997 TRIP, THERE ARE ONLY THREE HOTELS AT VALLE NEVADO (AND THUS NO LIFTLINES), SO EARLY RESERVATIONS ARE ESSENTIAL. FINAL PRICES WILL NOT BE AVAILABLE UNTIL JANUARY. WE EXPECT THE 1997 TRIP WILL COST $2,300 TO $2,400--WITH A $70 TO $100 DISCOUNT FOR SENIORS. THIS INCLUDES FULL BREAKFASTS DAILY, ALL DINNERS AT VALLE NEVADO, SOME IN SANTIAGO AND LIFT TICKETS AND TOURING. IF YOU WANT TO ASSURE A SPOT, PLEASE SEND YOUR CHECK FOR $100 (TOTALLY REFUNDABLE THROUGH FEBRUARY, 1997) PAYABLE TO NANCY MCKINLEY, 2326 N UPTON ST., ARLINGTON, VA 22207.

Au Revoir to the Cycling Season by Marvin Hass

The Halloween Bike Ride on October 31 attracted eight mid-week participants who pedaled a leisurely 21 miles on the W&OD Trail to and from Leesburg on a bright sunny day. Near the end of the ride, the leaders led the group astray to the newly opened Old Dominion Brewpub, located right at the microbrewery in the Beaumeade Corporate Center. This place is really out of the way and a hidden gem to connoisseurs of fermented hops and barley. After tasting several different kinds of fresh brew along with food complementing the beverage, a group of happy cyclists pedaled their way back a mile to the starting point. Those who missed this experience can join us next year when Bike 'N Beer will be repeated.

LINGANORE WINERY TOUR - Rosemary Soler

On a particularly cold and blustery day, November 2, 12 PVSers car-pooled through the beautiful, rolling Maryland countryside to the Linganore Winecellars and Berrywine Plantation, just north of New Market. It goes without saying, yakking and not paying attention will get you in trouble every time, as David Abrahams will attest. While tooling his Caddy along at a great clip, the "navigators" in the back seat, (in an effort to better Bill Anderson's record) messed up big time and took him miles out of the way! After more chatter the wrong was righted and we arrived at the winery in good order along with a few other stragglers who no doubt miscued too.

As you enter the 230 acre plantation the vineyards are on your right ascending a hill, at the crest of which, are the buildings that house the cellars and tasting room. After explaining the winemaking procedure, we were guided through an extensive sampling of wines, 31 to be exact, by the owner, Lucille Aellen. She suggested certain wines as compliments to certain gourmet dishes. The variety was impressive, including dry whites and reds, plus semi-sweet dessert and fruit wines and spiced types that could be served heated for the holidays. A full bodied Chambourcin red was very smooth. After purchasing some bottles we headed for the Catoctin Orchard Store at Thurmont in Camp David country where we shopped for freshly picked apples, apple butter, honey, many kinds of jellies and jams, etc.

Then it was off to the Mt. Gate Restaurant, just down the road, and a fantastic buffet dinner with all the trimmings where the variety was mind boggling! Thanks to Charlie and Sara Huggins for planning such a wonderful day.

SPECIAL NOTE: It's time to think about PVS officers for the 1997-1998 season. The nominating committee is headed by Jan Marx. If you have suggestions for officers or the board, call Jan at 703-451-9158.

BEER TASTING EXTRAVAGANZA by Liz Triau

It was a rainy night in Derwood on November 9th when a group of 14 PVSers gathered at the home of George Hicho who along with Sue Walsh prepared a fun tasting party. There was a selection of ten beers, both domestic and foreign, and each person was given a list of the beers and a rating sheet on which we were to identify each beer being tasted and rate it as "excellent, good, fair or ugh"(believe me, there were a number of ughs!).

We began with a round of beer served in unidentified plastic tasting glasses and we all marked our sheets with wild guesses as to the brand of beer and its rating. We cleansed our palates with an assortment of delicious snacks between each round of beer. At midway, we took a break and played a picture beer guessing game provided by Ned Flaherty___ a hilarious interlude.

At the final tally, after tasting all the beers, it was Nancy McKinley who won the first place prize with four correct answers and Liz Triau (who never drinks beer and knows nothing about beer) who won the second place with three correct guesses. Where were all the male beer drinkers who thought they knew which beer was which?? Anyway, a good time was had by all and we topped off the evening with coffee and many yummy desserts.

Many thanks to George and Sue for a memorable and fun evening.

BLACK NIGHT AT ARTS CLUB

by Marilyn Clark

Actually it was a lovely evening at the Arts Club, and the elegantly attired PVSers were nearly all in black. Most of the women wore black complementing the black tie worn by most of the men. The newly refurbished Arts Club was beautiful, the food was delicious, and the famous PVS camaraderie was enhanced by everyone dressed in their best.

Now to food, so dear to every PVS&Eer. We started with cocktails and snow pea wrapped scallops, smoked Gouda and caramelized onion quesadillas and chicken satyas. When we were all seated at the well appointed tables, we feasted on Steamboat Springs pumpkin corn chowder and champagne, Snowmass New York grilled steak with mushroom sauce and Pinot Noir, Park City Potatoes Anna with a touch of Deer Valley, Heavenly Valley haricot verte with julienne peppers, Val d'Isere rolls and butter, and Valle Nevado coffee pot de creme. The evening ended with coffee and cordials and more good conversation.

Many, many thanks to Bill Anderson and Ham and Terry Morton for a very memorable evening.

A SPECIAL MUSICAL EVENT

Some ten PVSers thoroughly enjoyed the concert by the Eclipse Chamber Orchestra on Sunday, November 17. This group is made up of members of the National Symphony Orchestra. There was a delightfully wide range of music, made even more interesting by the short history and description given by the director before the performance of each piece. Thanks to Ray and Nancy for arranging this special treat for the club. Including special ticket prices!

Afterwards, the group adjourned to a Chinese restaurant in Bethesda. The place was so crowded, the situation looked hopeless, but the staff soon produced some tables and all were well fed. Particularly with lots of broccoli!

COLONNADE REVISITED

Once again PVS members gathered at 2801 New Mexico Ave. to enjoy the November meeting with our gracious Bette Walker. Enticing hors d'oeuvres were provided by gourmet chefs Bill Anderson, Jessma Blockwick, Genee Boykin, Marilyn Clark, Irene Farrell, Ned Flaherty, Joan Flake, Jan Marx, Marty McNeill, Nancy McKinley, Dina Taylor, and Liz Triau.

Many excited conversations were overheard filled with anticipation of the club's ski trips in December, January, February, March, and August. After all, that's what we're all about!

Next, our leader Serge called for the business session to commence (which included asking for suggestions on next season's destinations), and in short order introduced the special program of the evening. This was Brian Eardly's annual pitch about the latest ski equipment which was informative and helpful, and indicative that skiing remains pricey as we approach the 21st century. But of course, it is still worth the price, and more!

Coffee time concluded the meeting and sent 59 PVSers away thinking SNOW and pondering POWDER. Thank you, Bette. Happy skiing!

ANNUAL CHILI HIKE

Neither snow nor rain nor sleet nor hail will stop the PVS Chili hikers. Fortunately, this year none of those hazards were to be seen on Saturday, Nov. 23, so the band of 28 started off at a very rapid pace led by Dick Clark. As time went by, the neat configuration somewhat disintegrated, with some people dropping out early, others arriving late and rushing to catch up. At one point, sweep Lu Beale was puzzled to find herself in front of the main body. There was no question that everyone had a great hike, however--wherever they were!

Ray McKinley had cleverly left town for the preceding week, so that Nancy was left to get ready for the party, join in the hike, and make the chili. Ray, however, got home in time to do the final seasoning, and together they produced the usual magnificent dish, mild or hot. With all the goodies brought by the participants, there was the usual PVS feast--with most feeling they could eat and drink freely with all the calories burned earlier. A great annual event--thanks again, Nancy and Ray!

COOK'S CORNER

by

Nancy Garrett

Hard to believe that it is again time to begin celebrating Christmas. The recipes below are wonderful to share with family and friends and, of course, have been taste tested by many members of PVS&E. Enjoy and have a Happy Holiday Season!!!

AUNT STELLA'S TUNA ANTIPASTO

Ned Flaherty

The Aunt Stella belongs to Jackie, but Ned does the fixing.

Combine:

- 1 (6 1/2 oz.) can tuna
- 1 (2 oz.) jar green stuffed olives sliced (can use salad olives)
- 1 (3 1/2 oz.) jar small cocktail olives (quartered)
- (Ned says "Have fun with this one!")
- 1 (2-3 oz.) can sliced mushrooms
- 3/4 cup chopped sweet pickle mix (or sweet pickle relish)
- + 4 Tablespoons pickle juice
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 1/2 cup cocktail sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 or 2 dashes Tabasco sauce (or more to taste)

Makes 2 cups plus. Serve with chips or crackers. Ned says it will keep for weeks, unless you really want to eat it. Served at the November meeting.

SPINACH BALLS

Nancy Ewing

Mix together well:

- 2 (10 oz.) packages frozen chopped spinach, cooked and drained well
 - 1/2 cup oleo, room temperature
 - 1/2 cup grated Parmesan Cheese
 - 1 cup finely chopped onions
 - 1 Tablespoon garlic powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon thyme
 - 2 cups stuffing mix (Nancy uses Pepperidge Farm Herb)
 - 3 eggs
 - Salt and pepper to taste
- Drop walnut sized portions onto waxed paper. Freeze. Bag after freezing. Remove as needed for hors d'oeuvres. Bake in 350* oven on cookie sheet for 12-20 minutes. Makes 60 - 70.

(From September meeting.)

CURRY CHICKEN ROLL

Jessma Blockwick

Mix together well in blender or by hand. As you mix, add curry powder (lots) until mixture is hot. (Use the taste test to determine the degree of hot.)

- 2 cans white chicken meat or meat of one chicken
 - 1 (8 oz.) package cream cheese (Jessma uses fat free or lite)
 - Pinch of white pepper
- Put mixture into freezer until solidified enough to work with. Can be refrigerated overnight. Then, place mixture on waxed paper and shape into 2 logs. Roll in shredded unsweetened coconut. Pat coconut into log to ensure it adheres. Place logs onto serving dish. Make indentation down center of each log. Fill with Raffeto chut-nut (or any really good kind) chutney. Serve with crackers. (From the November meeting.)

CRAB MOLD

Marty McNeill

Simmer, stirring until smooth, but DON'T BOIL.

- 1 can tomato soup
- 1 (8 oz.) cream cheese - fat free

Dissolve and add to soup mixture:

- 1/4 - 1/2 cup cold water
 - 1 package unflavored gelatin
 - 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- Remove from heat IMMEDIATELY.

Let mixture cool while you chop:

- 1/2 cup (heaping) chopped onion
- 1/2 cup (heaping) chopped celery
- 2 (6 oz.) cans crab meat, rinsed (Marty used Crown-Prince - Fancy White)

Add to tomato soup mixture. Place in well-oiled mold. Chill. Marty used the lovely fish shaped mold. Unmold and serve with crackers. November

THE KNEE

by

Ray McKinley

While downtown last week I saw a bus from "Potomac Valley" bus lines. Their slogan was "Where Travel Dreams Come True." The same slogan certainly applies to Potomac Valley Skiers doesn't it? Alright so we may have to say Where Winter Travel Dreams...

This may be the winter for traveling. As usual Killington was the first ski area to open, on October 3! However the weather warmed up a bit and they closed on Oct. 6. But they were first.

On a business trip, the Knee had a 3 hour layover at Salt Lake City. They're primed for skiing. Shops sold six different ski magazines (and unfortunately three others on snowboarding). Park City had its earliest opening ever on October 23. Last year, while we had snow through the wazoo (that's a technical term), Park City didn't open before the New Year. It was also kneat that for airline departures to Las Vegas, they spelled it more realistically as La$ Vega$.

PVS is a ukneeque group. So it's fitting that we have a gaggle (also a technical term) of members with sufficiently ukneeque first names to identify them. Cases in point: Gorman, Adele, Serge, Aina, Dina, Rosy, Burr, Nat, Huey, Bing, Ham, Shahrsad, Mary Jane, Fumiko, Myron (which my computer's spell check always wants to correct to Moron!), Jacques (now residing in New England), Paddy (now in New Mexico), Glade, Ned, Knox, Irene, Malda, Sheldon, Arlette, Marianne, Genee, Jessma, Aase (now in South Carolina) and Lu. Certainly a unique group.

A special tip of the ol' Knee cap to Wayne Yessler, PVS' newest father! That's the first time in a few years (decades?) I've used that term.

While in the middle of a round of golf (the middle of a round of golf is obviously "of") at La Costa east, George Hicho and Sue Walsh were lacosted by ten foot long alligator. The alligator thought it had the worst lie. Izod so.

Amongst others, Joan and Glade Flake closed their boat for the season and winterized it the first week of November--just prior to the season's two most perfect weekends. Ray and Nancy Garrett were glad they waited. They spent an unexpected night on board while hardwood flooring was installed at home--by the company that did the Heitchue's floors. Marilyn Clark is now arranging for carpeting. C'est la PVS.

The food at our grand Arts Club dinner was the best ever. Perhaps because host Bill Anderson asked each trip leader for a recipe. A surprise guest was Kathy Quinden. She was back from Geneva, retired from State Department, and moving to Tahoe to ski. Right out.

Happy Birthday Ski Areas. Mt. Hood is starting its 90th ski season. Loveland turns 60, and Aspen has started its 50th season with the earliest opening ever. Last year the average Aspen home sold for a bit over $2 million. Just 50 years ago the best Victorian homes in the near ghost town were under $500. Aspen is also the home of Klaus Obermeyer who revolutionized our sport with his clothing. Prior to his skiwear, proper ski attire was knickers and a tie. He created the first down parka and the turtleneck. Cool--or warm.

One of PVS's founders, Dick King, was in town recently with his lovely wife, Julie. They had a great visit with Aina Thomas. Kneat!

Let me close this first column of ski season with some ski area news. Who says bigger isn't better? Vail Resorts has just bought rivals Keystone, Breckenridge and Arapahoe Basin. They also own Beaver Creek and are lobbying to change the name "Colorado" to "Vail." Steve Otten's American Skiing Corp. now owns seven Vermont ski areas including Killington, Mount Snow and Haystack. Otten will offer a seven day, seven area pass for $39 per day. He's lobbying to change "Vermont" to "Otten." Sounds rOtten.

Interwest which owns Blackcomb, has recently added Mammoth, Stratton, Snowshoe and Mont Tremblant. They've just completed a $343 million overhaul of Tremblant and will change the name to Mont Tres Cher! Finally, Park City has the first high speed sextuple chairlift in the U.S. Being in conservative Utah, they are not likely to call it a "High Speed Sex."
